

Breyunner Fuentes, 16
Red de Juventudes Cooperativas
Colombia

My name is Breyunner Fuentes, I am 16 years old, I am from San Gil. In 2015 the cooperative sector came into my life; since then solidarity and cooperation have become my way of life. This experience allowed me to get closer to content on radio, television and the local press, being the director of the program "La voz junior", a broadcast for young people and for young people, where visibility was given to the solidarity sector. In 2018 La Equidad Seguros, a very important insurer in the country, welcomed me to continue with my training process, allowing me to represent them at national and international events, as a management and alliance representative of its youth committee. Today I am the founder and president of the Red de Juventudes Cooperativas, a dream come true ... Here I have achieved that young people have a voice and vote in cooperatives: "it is time to act so that youth participation is more influential "
